Meet the new Community Police Review Commission manager

RIVERSIDE, Calif. – The Mayor and City Council invites the public to a meet and greet with the new Community Police Review Commission (CPRC) manager, Frank Hauptmann.

A reception will be held at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday February 1 in the Mayor's Ceremonial Room at City Hall.

Mayor Ron Loveridge said, "The CPRC Manager needs to be a relationship builder to continue to increase transparency and responsiveness at City Hall. Frank Hauptmann is that kind of person and we are delighted he has come on board".

Hauptmann has worked in various roles in law enforcement and brings a tremendous amount of experience to Riverside with a strong commitment to law enforcement, police accountability, and the concepts of community policing. He is experienced in developing positive working relationships between and among members of law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve. Frank holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Southern Illinois University in Workforce Education, Training and Development.

Frank was selected for the position following an extensive selection process. "It was plain and clear from our discussions with Frank that he has a high level of integrity" said Bill Howe one of the selection committee and a former CPRC Commissioner.

The CPRC advises the Mayor and City Council on police/community relations, as well as reviews and investigates citizen complaints against officers. The manager plans, coordinates and supervises staff work of the commission, while providing support to commission members in carrying out their duties.
